Partnership - An intentional relationship based on mutual trust, openness, shared risk and shared rewards that yields an advantage for constituents through the provision of services greater than would be achieved by the entities individually.

Type I - Partner recognition, activities & planning coordinated on a limited basis, risks are minimal, focus is short term and may be related to a project or event.

Type II - Each contributes financial or intellectual resources. Some integration of service and sharing of risks. Focus is long term.

Type III - Significant level of integration is shared, no "end date" is foreseen. Risks are shared. Entities are dependent upon one-another for success.
